

Open Seminar on the Role of Academic Research in Asian Development
the JSPS Exchange Program for East Asian Young Researchers “Building Research Capabilities of Young Scholars for Asian Development through the Academic Network for Development in Asia (ANDA)”

The Graduate School of International Development, Nagoya University

Date:

May 11, 2010 (Tuesday)

Venue:

Multi-purpose Auditorium, 8th Floor, GSID, Nagoya University

Opening Session: (9:00-9:30)

Opening Address: Dr. Michinari Hamaguchi, President, Nagoya University

Welcome Address: Mr. Hideyuki Yamaguchi, Research Center for Science Systems, JSPS

Introduction: Dr. Aya Okada, Program Coordinator, Professor, GSID, Nagoya University

Session 1: Research Activities at Nagoya University (9:30-12:00)

1. The Promotion of International Joint Research for Asian Sustainable Development:
The Experience of the Academic Network for Development in Asia (ANDA) (9:30-10:30)
 - 1) Dr. Aya Okada, ANDA Coordinator, & Professor, GSID, Nagoya University
“ANDA Project: Outline and Experience”
 - 2) Dr. Kiyoshi Fujikawa, Associate Dean & Professor, GSID, Nagoya University
“Research Group on Manufacturing in Asia”
 - 3) Dr. Yoshiaki Nishikawa, Professor, GSID, Nagoya University
“Research Group on Tourism in Asian Developing Countries”
 - 4) Dr. Aser B. Javier, Associate Professor, University of the Philippines, Los Banos
“Research Group on Governance in Asia”
 - 5) Dr. Sanae Ito, Associate Professor, GSID, Nagoya University
“Research Group on Poverty Reduction in Asian Developing Countries”
2. Dr. Katsuya Ichihashi, Professor, Graduate School of Law/Director, Center for Asian Legal Exchange (CALE), Nagoya University (10:40-11:20)
“Legal Assistance Projects to Asian Countries”
3. Dr. Akihiro Noguchi, Professor, Graduate School of Economics, Nagoya University (11:20-12:00)
“Research and Education for the Wisdom of Japanese Manufacturing”

Session 2: The Role of Academic Research in Asian Development (13:30-17:00)

1. Mr. Takaaki Oiwa, Senior Research Fellow, JICA Research Institute (13:30-14:15)
“For Redefining Development Cooperation in Changing Circumstances: an Aid Agency Perspective”
2. Dr. Per Stromberg, JSPS Post-doctoral Fellow, The Institute of Advanced Studies of The United Nations University (UNU-IAS) (14:15-15:00)
“Addressing Global Issues: Ecosystems and Sustainable Development”
3. Dr. Wang Ming, Professor, Tsinghua University (15:15-16:00)
“NPOs and Its Studies in China : The Emergence of Civil Society and Academic Research”
4. Dr. Akiyoshi Yonezawa, Associate Professor, Tohoku University (16:00-16:45)
“The Changing Role of Asian Universities in Research and Education”

Closing Session (16:45-17:00)

Closing Address: Prof. Katsufumi Narita, Dean & Professor, GSID, Nagoya University

Welcome Reception (Venue: Symposium) (18:00 – 20:00)

JSPS Exchange Program for East Asian Young Researchers Building Research Capabilities of Young Scholars for Asian Development through the Academic Network for Development in Asia (ANDA)

Since 2009, The Graduate School of International Development (GSID) has been engaged in an exchange program entitled "Building Research Capabilities of Young Scholars for Asian Development through the Academic Network for Development in Asia (ANDA)," under JSPS's Exchange Program for East Asian Young Researchers. This program is intended to promote exchange activities among young scholars from member universities of ANDA, which was created in 2008 under JSPS's Asia/Africa Science Platform Program as the first inter-university network of its kind in Asia. Comprising key universities from 11 Asian countries, ANDA is committed to sustainable development of the Asian region through joint research and other exchange activities.

Under the program, GSID invites a total of 16 young scholars from ANDA member universities to Japan to provide them with an opportunity for participating in the international joint research being conducted by ANDA. The program seeks to promote academic exchange and improve the research capabilities of the invited young scholars through guidance and feedback from, and active interactions with, fellow young scholars from other countries, and faculty and students from GSID. As part of this program, GSID organizes a series of joint seminars where both invited young scholars and GSID's young scholars, including graduate students, present their research and receive comments from their peers, and exchange ideas and experiences. In addition, to enhance long-term academic liaisons with ANDA member universities, GSID plans to send some of its faculty members to these Asian universities to discuss the progress of joint research and to formulate long-term strategies for further fostering the capabilities of young scholars throughout ANDA member universities.

Core Member Institutions of ANDA:

- Graduate School of International Development, Nagoya University, Japan
- Faculty of Economics, Chulalongkorn University, Thailand
- Master's Program in Development Studies, Royal University of Phnom Penh, Cambodia
- Faculty of Education, Faculty of Economics and Management, and Faculty of Law and Administration, Laos National University, Laos
- School of Humanities and Social Sciences, Ho Chi Minh City National University, Vietnam
- Faculty of Political and Social Science, Gadjah Mada University, Indonesia
- School of Public Policy and Management, Tsinghua University, China
- Institute of Development Management and Governance, College of Public Affairs, University of the Philippines Los Baños, the Philippines
- Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, Indian Institute of Technology Bombay, India
- Graduate School of International Studies, Korea University, Korea, and
- Faculty of Economics, National University of Singapore, Singapore

Contact Information of ANDA Secretariat:

Program Coordinator: Dr. Aya Okada, Professor

Program Assistant: Yuko Odake

Graduate School of International Development (GSID), Nagoya University

Furo-cho, Chikusa-ku, Nagoya 464-8601 Japan

E-mail: anda.secretariat@gmail.com

URL: <http://www2.gsid.nagoya-u.ac.jp/blog/anda/>