

2014 Support for Overseas Study (6 months) under Campus ASEAN Project

April, 2014

Graduate School of International Development
Nagoya University

1. Background and Objectives

The Graduate School of International Development (GSID) introduces a Re-Inventing Japan Project titled “Training a New Generation of Leaders in International Cooperation for the Development of the ASEAN Region” (Campus ASEAN in short) for the period of school year 2012 through 2016. This project, which was jointly applied by GSID, Graduate School of Law/ School of Law, Graduate School of Economics/ School of Economics, Center for Asian Legal Exchange (CALE) and International Cooperation Center for Agricultural Education, was adopted and supported by Japan Society for the Promotion of Science (JSPS). The main objective of this project is to foster global leaders in international cooperation who understand both aid and business, with knowledge of economy, law, politics, society and culture of the ASEAN region and Japan. For this purpose, Nagoya University has established a consortium with National University of Singapore, Chulalongkorn University (Thailand), University of the Philippines Los Baños, Gadjah Mada University (Indonesia), Royal University of Law and Economics (Cambodia), Hanoi Law University (Vietnam) and Ho Chi Minh City University of Law (Vietnam) to develop common curriculum with quality assurance and strengthen participants’ mutual understanding through short-term and long-term overseas studies.

As part of the program, GSID is going to send one student to Chulalongkorn University (Thailand) and University of the Philippines Los Baños (The Philippines) for overseas study with credit in school year 2014 (Fall Semester). GSID will soon be ready to accept applications for “Credit-based Six month Overseas Study”. Students are expected to be inspired to become a future leader in international cooperation and improve their intercultural understanding through course works and experience in life of oversea study.

2. Eligibility for Application

- A. The applicants must be enrolled as students in the Master and Doctoral program of GSID (excluding those on leave of absence). In addition, they must have the approval of their academic advisor. Students from Graduate School of Economics and Graduate School of Law who have relevant experiences and enthusiasm for learning international development are also welcome to apply (However, since there is no university wide agreement for academic exchange and cooperation between University of Philippines Los Baños and Nagoya University, students from other departments of Nagoya University have to pay tuition for the overseas study. The information regarding the conclusion of the agreement will be updated once it is approved.).
